URL Organizer 2 [Mac/Win] 2022 [New]

KEYMACRO lets you create keyboard macros to easily perform common operations like opening, displaying, copying or pasting one or more URLs. The list of available macros is stored in an XML-based file with any number of "keys" and "urls", and can be loaded and configured in seconds. You can also take advantage of this powerful program to automate the execution of any application or operating system command. KEYMACRO provides two main panels to configure the macros: the first one is for configuring the list of available keys and urls, the second one is for defining a new macro. You can define a macro to execute any specific task, like opening a new

Internet Explorer window or displaying a URL, or you can also configure it to perform more complex tasks like opening a URL in a specified web browser and displaying it. A macro definition is made up of one or more keywords that define the macro's behaviour. A keyword can be a number of characters up to 128, or an URL. To define a new macro you just need to specify a keyword and a URL or any of the standard URLs provided with KEYMACRO, or you can also open an existing macro and modify its keywords or URL list. Once you've created a new macro you can save it as a file and reuse it in any other campaign you develop. Finally, you can easily configure a new macro to be displayed automatically when you start up the program. Features: ☐ 15 user-definable keyword categories (used for macro names) ☐ 30 days trial period Limitations: ☐ Windows 95/98/ME/2000 ☐ Windows NT/2K/XP/2003/Vista ☐ Internet Explorer 6+ and Netscape Navigator 7+ and Opera 9.5+ KEYMACRO is a totally configurable web browser. You can save a list of bookmarks or browser history, or you can run any programs on a specific site, or you can use your mouse to launch any URL or to type any URL into a web browser. You can also launch programs automatically every time you start up the program. With KeyMacro you can now share URLs, bookmarks and programs among many users. KEYMACRO is a configurable web browser. You can save a list of bookmarks or browser history, or you can run any programs on a specific site, or you can use your mouse to launch any URL or to 77a5ca646e
