Your eyes can barely see anything. The light has long since faded, and it will take a while to find your way back to your bedroll. All the while, you can hear the sounds of the night, the breaking of branches, and the breath of the beast who hunts you. The huntsman. You are being stalked. At the moment, you are unable to see him, but if you wait for a few more moments, you might be able to catch a glimpse of him. But what if you don't? What will you do then? A loud scream interrupts your thoughts. It is not a sound that you recognize, and you are immediately scared by it. As the scream builds in intensity, you notice that your attacker has vanished. The voice of a child. A terrified little girl. The sound that she has just made sounds like a plea for help. You rush out of the forest, hoping to find her. Somewhere in the darkness, you hear the sound of wood breaking, and you can make out the outline of a small, windowless house. Upon entering the house, you hear the child scream again, and she lets out a pitiful plea for your help. Welcome to the Game! The Player is an Ordinary man.  Days is a Japanese adult science fiction manga series by Shun Saeki. A romantic comedy manga first serialized in Gentosha's Comic Birz on April 2013, the manga has 24 chapters and has been published in five volumes between October 2013 and February 2018. Following Gentosha's closure, the series moved to publisher Shogakukan's webcomic website Thank You! Jump. An anime television series adaptation by Shogakukan, featuring character designs by Softcat, was announced on December 25, 2017. The series premiered on April 10, 2018 on AT-X and other channels. Plot The story centers on Chihiro Miyamura who works as a trainee meteorologist in the reserves division of the Japan Meteorological Agency (JMA). Although she has received women's equal employment rights, underclassmen refer to her as "senior" and treat her with deference. It was initially made quite clear that Chihiro would sacrifice herself to save the beautiful other main character Yuzuha Tsuchihara, an up-and-coming woman pilot. Nevertheless, the love that blossoms between Chihiro and Yuzuha is unrequited as Chihiro is assigned to the mechanization division instead and later passes away at the hands of terrorists. In her flash-forward, Chihiro perceives the world "falling apart" and asks Yuzuha, who has the ability to see into the future, to "save the day" by going into the past and slaying a demon holding society back. Characters Meteorology Division A member of the Meteorological Division of the Japan Meteorological Agency. As of chapter 1, she has been accepted as a junior member in the Meteorology Division after the change in leadership at the agency. As a liaison with the U.S. National Weather Service, she has been to several countries and met with several high-ranking people. In the past, she has had feelings for young astronomer and astronomer Mizuki Teruyama, who was forced to pilot the aircraft for a meteorological survey. After he died in the air, Teruyama's heart was given to her, and he was later sent to an institution. In the future, she has feelings for Chihiro, as he is the person who will save the world from the demon, who has left its body into the sky. She comes from a long line of successful solo women pilots in the meteorological field.

Highschool ATEIU! Etrian Odyssey IV: Legends of the Titan is a spin-off in the Etrian Odyssey IV series. It is a tactical role-playing game with a story line with pre-designated plot and scenarios, which differs from the story of the main games. The story and scenarios of Etrian Odyssey IV: Legends of the Titan are written by Hiroaki Yura, who is the author of the Etrian Odyssey III series. The world of Etrian Odyssey IV: Legends of the Titan is divided into Z-Ranks, which depict the strength and status of the class in terms of power. Higher Z-Ranks are harder to complete and have better equipment to become stronger. There are seven classes with three ranks: the Warrior, the Mage and the Cleric. The characters also have attributes, which they can increase and decrease, and skills that improve their abilities and abilities. These attributes are energy points, which can be increased through experience points gained from battles with monsters. The skills are divided in five categories: attack, defense, movement, magic and strength, with more skill points per ranks than the attributes. The player can select five skills in each category. Each chapter of Etrian Odyssey IV: Legends of the Titan has three major tasks to complete which differ from the main storyline, there is also one secondary story arc that has the same missions as the main story, but only with few differences. The secondary story arc is always introduced in one of the free missions, but its conclusion is not necessarily to continue the main storyline. The chapters are divided in smaller missions, ranging in a level of difficulty from easy to insane. The difficulty for each chapter increases as the player advances through the ranks, with the players able to obtain better equipment and higher Z-Ranks. The story of Etrian Odyssey IV: Legends of the Titan is detailed and requires a lot of exploration to advance through the storyline. Many of the locations in the story is unpredictable and the NPCs in the story have dialogue, so the player is encouraged to talk to all the characters and explore the locations. Like the previous games of Etrian Odyssey series, Etrian Odyssey IV: Legends of the Titan includes player's choice system as one of the key elements in the game. The player is able to change the path of the story, with the choices that have great impact on the ending. Etrian Odyssey IV: Legends of the Titan also offers pre-designated plot and scenarios,
