Backup Now! - File Backup Software Are you using an old computer, notebook or cellphone that is not upgradeable anymore? Are you using a digital camera and want to backup your photos? Did you lose all your data and are looking for a safe and reliable way to recover it? Do you want to archive your data? The following text will show you how to backup your files and folders easily and quickly. In this tutorial we will show you how to create a folder where you save all your backups. Once you have created this folder, you can use it to back up and restore all of your important files and folders. How to create a backup folder on your hard drive To begin, go to the Windows Explorer, which is located in the Start menu and then open the folder you wish to save your backups. Select the folder you wish to create, right click on it and choose New >> Folder. After that, give a name for the folder, in the following example, we have called it Backup folder. Once you have named the folder, click on the OK button. That's all! Your backup folder has now been created. How to restore a backup on your computer When you have made a backup, it would be very sad if you lost it. The following text will show you how to restore a backup you have made. Open the folder you saved your backup and right click on it. Choose Restore >> Backup. The backup you have restored is then displayed in the folder. If you are not sure about how to restore a backup, click here. Use the manual restore feature to create a backup If you want to create a backup in a very simple way, without the need to do all of the above-mentioned steps, just open the File Backup and Restore app. Open the settings to enable backup To open the settings, press CTRL + 1 on your keyboard or select File >> Backup and Restore from the menu. After you have opened the settings, make sure that you have checked the box that says Create a backup automatically. Select the backup folder and the frequency of the backup, select the desired settings and press Save. If you need to restore a backup made before the settings were configured, go to File >> Backup and Restore from the menu. Type the name of the folder in which you saved the backup you want to restore and press Restore. The
